(1) The summary risk indicator (SRI) is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the market or because we are not able to pay you. It ranges from 1 (low risk) to 7 (high risk). This indicator is not constant and will change according to the fund's risk profile. The lowest category does not mean risk-free. Historical data, such as that used to calculate the SRI, may not be a reliable indication of the fund's future risk profile. SUSTAINABLE REPORT - METHODOLOGY

ODDO BHF AM considers that measuring the environmental, social and governance impact of an investment is an essential step in disseminating good practices in ESG integration. To do this, it is imperative to have reliable, simple quantitative criteria (no reprocessing) and to allow comparison between portfolios regardless of their composition (large vs midcaps, geographical and sectoral diversity). The choice of indicators is therefore crucial for the relevance of impact measurement.

We systematically indicate the availability of the data at the level of the portfolio and its benchmark.

For more information on the ODDO BHF Asset Management ESG methodology, please refer to the Sustainable investing & ESG document available on www.am.oddo-bhf.com

Carbon metrics methodology: We updated our methodology of carbon intensity calculation. Starting January 31st, 2023, when reported carbon values are unavailable or inconsistent, estimated carbon values are used. The estimations are based on average carbon value (scope 1+2 emissions) of sectoral peers as a function of revenues

*ESG rank at the end of the period: In accordance with the update to our ESG integration policy, the internal ESG rating scale now ranks the investment universe from 1 (High Risk) to 5

MONTHLY MANAGEMENT COMMENT

In May 2026, the European High Yield market (HEAG) gained 1.86% with spreads tighter by 65 bp to an ending level of 238 bps. Year-to-date it delivered a positive performance of 0.24%.

Markets rebounded sharply during the month, recovering most of the drawdown recorded in March, despite the ongoing blockade of the Strait of Hormuz. Macroeconomic indicators were mixed. In the US, the Composite PMI remained in expansionary territory, improving to 52.0 from 50.3 in the previous month. In contrast, the European Composite PMI fell back into contraction at 48.6, down from 50.7.

Inflation data released in May came in higher than in the prior month, reflecting the impact of the Strait of Hormuz closure. US core CPI reached 2.6%, while European inflation rose to 2.5% (from 1.9% previously). Sovereign bond yields moved modestly higher, with the US 10 year Treasury ending May at 4.37% (+6 bps) and the German 10 year Bund closing at 3.04% (+4 bps).

Corporate earnings confirmed ongoing weaknesses in various sectors. Issuer guidance across sectors remained cautious. Primary market activity rebounded, with approximately EUR 18bn of new issues in May. These transactions were well absorbed, highlighting the continued strong investor appetite for the asset class.

The fund maintained its overall risk position during the month and continually invested proceeds from bond repayments according to its investment guidelines. It increased exposure to issuers showing a solid credit trend.

Looking ahead over the remainder of 2026, credit market volatility is expected to be driven by geopolitical risks—particularly in the Middle East—as well as inflation dynamics, economic growth, corporate fundamentals and sovereign risk developments. In this environment, disciplined credit selection remains essential.

RISKS:

The fund is exposed to the following risks :risk of capital loss, interest rate risk, credit risk, risk associated with discretionary management, risk associated with commitments on forward financial instruments, counterparty risk, risks associated with portfolio concentration, liquidity risk of underlying assets, risk associated with high yield bonds, emerging markets risk, risks associated with securities financing transactions and collateral management, Sustainability risk and on an ancillary basis currency risk
