MARKET REVIEW

Too early to take profit, yet

The political risk is now behind us in France, it is time to go back to fundamentals. While underlying conditions in the global economy are strengthening, some data may disappoint and trigger a countertrend setback in markets. The economic surprise index has recently weakened (mostly in the US and the UK), the Chinese economy could slowdown later this year and Trump's promises are being pushed back or diluted. As the equity market is now up 10%, is it time to take profit?

The slack in the global inflation figures could persist over the next few weeks, but this should be a temporary move. Indeed, the cyclical macro backdrop remains supportive for equity prices and negative for bonds.

Eurozone inflation accelerated to 1.90% YoY in April from 1.50% in March. More importantly, core inflation accelerated strongly to 1.20% YoY, from 0.80%. We need to admit that this acceleration was exaggerated by the timing of the Easter holiday. Even so, core inflation is likely to move above its previous range of 0.70%-0.90%, whereas 10 years German rates are still trading at 0.40%! Not easy to reconcile...

We do recognize that the emerging markets picture is more balanced. Our downbeat view on the Chinese economy has encouraged us to be cautious in metals & mining sectors. Conversely, India's structural reforms will support economic growth and capital inflows.

Can recent oil prices correction trigger a global market turmoil?

On a 6-12 month view, fundamental supply conditions will likely remain too plentiful. Fundamental demand conditions are expected to soften from very strong levels, but this is unlikely to trigger a price collapse to late-2015 lows. Bottom level is fundamentally defined by current break-evens in the U.S. shale patch, namely WTI $35-40/bbl (not that far from today's prices). OPEC next meeting statements will certainly aim to refraining from oil price excesses.

We are keeping our favorable stance towards Eurozone risky assets.

Halfway through the first quarter earnings season, 82% of the Euro STOXX companies that have reported have turned in positive surprises for sales and 75% for earnings. So far, sales are up an aggregate 9.5% year-on-year, with EPS up 25%. Moreover, the earnings recovery is broad-based, with the high level of positive earnings surprises distributed across all sectors except for energy and consumer services. No need to say that corporate earnings growth remains the main driver for long term equity performance.

To answer our first question, it is too early to take profit. We remain constructive on global equities levered to business spending and overweight Eurozone equities. For diversification purposes we recommend selected EM sovereign debt, European high yield short duration corporate bonds and try to avoid developed government debt.

We would keep that positive mood unless we get real signals that our scenario is at risk and as long as central banks are not making any communication mistakes.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a) GENERAL

These financial statements are prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg applicable to investment funds.

All figures disclosed in the financial statements are reported without decimals. As a result, small rounding differences may occur.

b) INVESTMENT VALUATION

The value of transferable securities, money market instruments and any financial assets listed or dealt in on a stock exchange or on a regulated market, or any other regulated market, are generally valued at the last available known price in the relevant market prior to the time of valuation. Fixed income securities not traded on such markets are generally valued at the last available price or yield equivalents obtained from one or more dealers or pricing services approved by the Board of Directors; if such prices are not representative of their value, such assets are stated at the fair value at which it is expected they may be resold, as determined in good faith by or under the direction of the Board of Directors.

All other transferable securities, money market instruments and any financial assets, including equity and debt securities, for which prices are supplied by a pricing agent but are not deemed to be representative of market value, are valued at fair value as determined in good faith pursuant to procedures established by the Board of Directors.

Money market instruments with a remaining maturity of one year or less will be valued by the amortized cost method, which approximates market value.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

c) CONVERSION OF FOREIGN CURRENCIES

The books and records of each sub-fund are denominated in the base currency of the corresponding sub-fund. Amounts denominated in other currencies are translated into the base currency on the following basis: (i) investment valuations and other assets and liabilities initially expressed in other currencies are converted each business day into the base currency on exchange rates prevailing on each business day; (ii) purchases and sales of foreign investments, income and expenses are converted into the base currency using currency exchange rates prevailing on the respective dates of such transactions.

Net realised gains and losses on foreign exchange represent: (i) foreign exchange gains and losses from the sale and holding of foreign currencies; (ii) gains and losses between trade date and settlement date on securities or derivatives transactions; (iii) gains and losses arising from the difference between amounts of dividends and interest or other income, respectively expenses recorded and the amounts actually received, respectively paid.

The resulting profits and losses on transactions are included in the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets.

The reference currency of the combined statements is EUR.

The exchange rates applied as at 28 April 2017 are as follows:

1 EUR = 1.08400 CHF	1 EUR = 8.46935 HKD	1 EUR = 9.64240 SEK
1 EUR = 7.51220 CNH	1 EUR = 121.38530 JPY	1 EUR = 1.52205 SGD
1 EUR = 0.84170 GBP	1 EUR = 9.32850 NOK	1 EUR = 1.08895 USD

d) SECURITIES TRANSACTIONS AND INVESTMENT INCOME

Securities transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Dividend income is accrued on the ex-dividend date. Interest income is recorded on an accrual basis and disclosed net of withholding taxes, if any. Dividends and interest received by the Company on its investments may be subject to non-recoverable withholding or other taxes in the countries of origin. Realised gains or losses are determined on the basis of the average cost of securities sold.

e) FORWARD CURRENCY EXCHANGE CONTRACTS, FINANCIAL FUTURES CONTRACTS, OPTION CONTRACTS AND SWAP CONTRACTS

The Company enters into forward currency exchange contracts, financial futures contracts, option contracts and swap contracts which, to varying degrees, represent a market risk in excess of the amount reflected on the Statement of Net Assets. The amount of the contracts represents the extent of the Company's participation in these financial instruments. Market risks associated with such contracts arise due to the possible movements in foreign exchange rates, indices, interest rates and security values underlying these instruments.

Other market and credit risks include the possibility that there may be an illiquid market for the contracts, that a change in the value of the contracts may not directly correlate with changes in the value of underlying currencies, indices, or securities, or that the counterparty to a contract defaults on its obligation to perform under the terms of the contract.

Forward currency exchange contracts

A forward currency exchange contract is an agreement to buy or sell a specific amount of foreign currency at a certain date, on or before a certain date. Outstanding forward currency exchange contracts are valued on 30 April 2017, by reference to the forward rate of exchange applicable to the maturity of the contracts. The unrealised gain or loss is shown in the Statement of Net Assets under "Unrealised gain on forward currency exchange contracts" or "Unrealised loss on forward currency exchange contracts".

Financial future contracts

A future contract is an agreement to buy or sell a standard amount of a financial instrument at a final price and a fixed future date. Future contracts are valued on 30 April 2017, which reflects the latest available price at close of business. The unrealised gain or loss is shown in the Statement of Net Assets under "Unrealised gain on financial futures contracts" or "Unrealised loss on financial futures contracts".

Options contracts

Options are contractual agreements that convey the right, but not the obligation, for the purchaser either to buy or sell a specific amount of a financial instrument at a fixed price, either at a fixed future date or at any time within a specified period. Options Contracts are valued on 30 April 2017 and the market value is shown in the Statement of Net Assets under “Options purchased at market value” under Assets. Written option contracts are valued on 30 April 2017, and the market value is shown in the Statement of Net Assets under “Options sold at market value” under Liabilities.

Swaptions

The company may use options on swaps (“swaptions”). A swaption is an option granting its owner the right but not the obligation to enter into an underlying swap. There is no outstanding swaption as at 30 April 2017.

Interest rate swaps

An interest rate swap is a bilateral agreement in which each of the parties agree to exchange a series of interest payments (usually fixed/floating) based on a notional amount that serves as a computation basis and that is usually not exchanged. Interest rate swaps are valued on 30 April 2017, at their market value. The valuation method involved a current value of each interest rate and capital series converted into the currency of the Company on the closing date. The result of these revaluations together with any interest receivable/payable in relation to interest swaps on 30 April 2017, is shown in the Statement of Net Assets, under “Unrealised gain on swaps” or “Unrealised loss on swaps”. There is no outstanding interest rate swap as at 30 April 2017.

Credit default swaps

A credit default swap is a credit derivative transaction in which two parties enter into an agreement, whereby one party pays the other a periodic payment for the specified life of the agreement. The other party makes no payment unless a credit event, relating to a predetermined reference asset, occurs. If such an event occurs, the party will then make a payment to the first party, and the swap will terminate. Credit default swaps are valued at their market value. The valuation method involves the current value of the interest rate series and the current value of the credit spread traded on the market converted into the currency of the Company on the closing date. The result of these revaluations, together with any interest receivable/payable related to the credit default swaps on 30 April 2017, is shown in the Statement of Net Assets under “Unrealised gain on swaps” or “Unrealised loss on swaps”. There is no outstanding credit default swap as at 30 April 2017.

Total return swaps

A total return swap is a transaction in which the buyer receives the performance of an underlying asset and in return the buyer pays funding costs and generally, an arrangement fee. The underlying asset may be, but not limited to, a specific security, basket of securities, other instruments and index. Total Return Swap contracts are valued by reference to the mark to market value based on the market value of the underlying asset. The unrealised gain or loss is shown in the Statement of Net Assets under “Unrealised gain on swaps” or “Unrealised loss on swaps”. There is no outstanding total return swap as at 30 April 2017.

f) REVERSE REPURCHASE AGREEMENTS

Reverse repurchase agreements are similar in effect to a loan collateralized by the underlying securities. A reverse repurchase agreement is an agreement under which an assigner sells securities to another person (the assignee) whereby the assigner agrees to repurchase them at a specified time and at a specified price. The assignee agrees to retrocede these securities at a specified time and at a specified price. The Company is the assignee.

Reverse repurchase agreements are valued at cost expressed in the original currency, whatever the market value of the underlying securities is. Accrued interest since the purchase date is included in “Interest receivable, Net” in the Statement of Net Assets.

On 30 April 2017, the Company was not committed into any Reverse repurchase agreement.

Oddo Compass

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

g) TRANSACTION COSTS

The transaction costs are costs incurred by the sub-funds in connection with transactions on securities and on futures. They consist of commissions and taxes relating to these transactions.

There are no brokerage fees charged separately for transactions on fixed income instruments and derivatives (except for futures and options). These transaction costs are included in the transaction price, which is known as “marked up”. Transaction costs are recorded in the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets under “Net Realised gain/(loss) on Sale of investments” and “Net realised profit in unrealised appreciation/(depreciation) on investments”.

h) INCOME EQUALISATION

The Company applies a so-called income equalisation procedure for the Share Classes of the Sub-Funds. This means that the proportional income and realised capital gains/losses accruing during the financial year which the acquirer of Shares must pay as part of the subscription price and which the seller of Shares receives as payment as part of the redemption price is continuously netted. The expenses incurred are accounted for in the calculation of the income equalisation procedure.

The income equalisation procedure serves to adjust fluctuations in the relationship between income and realised capital gains/losses on the one hand and other assets on the other hand, that are caused through net inflows or outflows due to the issue or redemption of Shares. Otherwise, every net inflow of capital would reduce the Share of income and realised capital gains/loss on the Net Asset Value of a Sub-Fund and each outflow would increase it.

As at 30 April 2017, there is no “Income Equalisation” recorded in the Statement of Net Assets.

3. MANAGEMENT FEE

The Management Company is paid, out of the assets of each of the sub-funds, an Investment Management fee, equal to a percentage per annum of the daily Net Asset Value of each class of Shares within each sub-fund and payable quarterly in arrears. The Management Company is responsible for paying the remuneration due to any Sub-Manager out of its fees.
